“Our community grants program has had a powerful and positive impact on this community since 2008,” said President Jeff Dalke. “And we are pleased to continue that legacy of giving with our grants this year.”

“We are also fortunate to have so many non-profits serving Shenandoah County,” said Program Coordinator, Jeanne Russell. “This year we were able to give grants to 23 area non-profits but there are many more which are doing good work and could use support. We received 29 applications and wish we could have given to all of them.”
